

ABSTRACT

A method executed in a processor includes executing microcode (μ code) stored in an out-of-order microinstruction pointer (μ IP) stack and manipulating the μ IP stack with a set of microinstructions.

20352438.doc